Privacy Policy

Hamilton General Corporation | ZV Picks / Zero Variance Picks

Effective and last updated: September 28, 2026
Applies prospectively as described in this policy.

How ZV Picks handles purchase, membership, support, and technical information. Purchase acceptance does not replace consent required for optional marketing or tracking. Privacy requests: zerovariancepicks@gmail.com

1. Who is responsible for this policy

Hamilton General Corporation, a Nevada domestic corporation operating as ZV Picks, Zero Variance Picks, and ZVPICKS ("we," "us"), provides digital sports-content subscriptions through zvpicks.com, Whop, and related Telegram channels and support communications. This policy explains information we handle for our own business purposes. Contact zerovariancepicks@gmail.com about privacy.

Whop, Telegram, payment providers, social-media platforms, and other third parties also process data under their own policies. This notice does not claim that we control all of their processing. Acceptance of a purchase contract is not consent to every optional marketing or tracking activity.

2. Information we receive or collect

Account and contact information: your name, purchase email, username or social handle, Telegram identifier, country or billing details made available by the checkout provider, and information you choose to give support.

Purchase and membership records: product, price, currency, discounts, order and transaction identifiers, payment status, subscription dates, cancellation requests, channel connection and access status, and limited payment-method information made available by the payment provider. Payment credentials are entered into the payment provider's interface. Do not send us full card details, bank credentials, passwords, or identity documents in ordinary support messages.

Communications and community content: messages, support requests, complaints, responses, and content you submit in community areas. Other participants may see information you post in those areas, subject to the platform's settings.

Technical and interaction information: IP address, browser and device information, requested pages, referral or campaign information, times, error information, and browser-storage preferences as collected by our site, hosting, or integrated services. What is available to us depends on the service and settings.

Compliance and security records: relevant order acceptance, policy version, access, consent or preference records, fraud signals, and records needed to investigate disputes or comply with legal duties. We do not need sensitive personal details unrelated to providing or securing your membership.

3. Sources and purposes

We receive information from you, the devices used to access the Services, and platforms that support checkout, membership, communications, hosting, and security. We use relevant information to fulfill orders, link paid access to Telegram, manage renewal and cancellation, answer support requests, investigate access or billing problems, secure the service, prevent misuse, keep required business records, and respond to lawful requests.

We may use service and campaign information to understand how the Services perform and improve them. Marketing communications and any optional tracking are subject to the choices and consent required by applicable law. We do not use a privacy notice as a substitute for a consent mechanism where one is required.

4. Browser storage, integrations, and choices

Our site may use browser storage to remember settings such as whether you have seen an offer. Whop checkout and payment integrations use their own technologies to provide payment, authentication, security, and related functions. Website fonts and other resources may be delivered by third-party servers, which receive connection information such as an IP address when your browser requests them.

You can manage browser cookies and storage in browser settings and use preferences offered by the relevant platform. Blocking essential technologies can prevent sign-in, checkout, or access. Where optional cookies or advertising technologies require consent or an opt-out, the applicable consent or preference mechanism governs. Contact us about privacy choices that you cannot locate.

5. Who may receive information

Relevant data may be shared with providers and platforms needed to operate the Services, including Whop and its payment partners for purchases and billing, Telegram for connected membership and communications, website hosting and infrastructure providers, and tools used for support or business administration. Providers may act for us or independently for their own platform, security, and legal purposes. Review their notices for those independent activities.

We may disclose relevant information to professional advisers, authorities where legally required, and parties involved in an actual or proposed business transfer subject to appropriate confidentiality and legal safeguards. We may share necessary transaction and fulfillment evidence with Whop, payment providers, banks, or advisers when investigating or responding to a payment dispute.

Community posts may be visible to other participants. We do not authorize publication of private support messages as advertising merely because you contacted us. Identifiable testimonials or private-message promotions require permission where applicable.

6. Advertising and marketing preferences

You can unsubscribe from marketing emails using the provided mechanism or contact zerovariancepicks@gmail.com. Operational messages about a purchase, account security, access, billing, or cancellation may still be necessary. Declining marketing does not itself cancel paid access.

If processing qualifies as a sale, sharing, or targeted advertising under a law that applies to you, you may exercise the relevant opt-out by contacting us and through any offered platform controls. We will honor legally required opt-outs, including recognized browser preference signals where applicable, for processing we control. We do not promise to control the separate advertising practices of Whop, Telegram, or a social-media service.

7. Legal grounds where required

Where applicable law requires a legal basis, relevant grounds may include performing a purchase or membership contract, legitimate interests in security and service administration balanced against your rights, compliance with legal obligations, and consent for activities that require it. You may withdraw consent for processing based on consent without affecting the lawfulness of earlier processing. Contract necessity is not a blanket basis for optional advertising.

8. International processing

The Services involve a U.S.-based business operation and international platforms and personnel; information may be accessed or processed in the United States, Israel, and other countries where relevant providers operate. Privacy laws may differ. Where a transfer is legally restricted, the required transfer safeguards or other lawful basis must apply. You may contact us for information about safeguards relevant to your data. This notice itself is not a waiver of cross-border protection requirements.

9. Retention and security

We retain information for as long as reasonably needed for the purpose for which it is processed, including running active memberships, addressing support and disputes, complying with tax or other recordkeeping duties, and protecting legal rights. The appropriate period depends on the record type, applicable obligations, and any ongoing dispute. We delete or de-identify information when it is no longer needed, subject to lawful retention and backup constraints.

We use reasonable measures appropriate to the information and service to protect it, but no system is completely secure. Keep credentials private and report suspected account compromise. Deleting a Telegram message or leaving a channel does not necessarily delete transaction or legal records held by us or another provider.

10. Your rights and how to request them

Depending on applicable law, you may have rights to access, correct, delete, or receive a portable copy of your information; restrict or object to certain processing; withdraw consent; opt out of sale, sharing, or targeted advertising; appeal a denied request; or complain to a competent privacy regulator. These rights have lawful exceptions and verification requirements. We will not unlawfully discriminate against you for exercising them.

Email zerovariancepicks@gmail.com with subject "Privacy Request", your purchase or account email, and the action requested. We may ask for proportionate verification, such as confirming control of that email. Do not send government ID or full payment details unless a necessary secure verification process is specifically arranged. Authorized agents may submit requests where law permits, with appropriate proof of authority. We respond within the time limits required by applicable law.

If a request concerns data held independently by Whop, Telegram, or another platform, you may also need to use that provider's privacy tools. We will assist with information within our control and explain an applicable limitation or appeal route where required.

11. Age restriction

Our Services are intended for people aged 21 or older, or the higher applicable minimum age. We do not knowingly solicit personal information from ineligible minors. If you believe a minor has provided information, contact us so we can investigate, restrict access, and take appropriate deletion or other action consistent with law.

12. Automated tools and community privacy

Membership integrations may automatically grant or remove channel access based on subscription status. Payment and fraud systems may separately make automated decisions under their own policies. If you believe an automated access action is wrong, contact support for review. Any rights relating to legally significant automated decisions remain available where applicable.

Telegram profile details and contributions may be visible according to Telegram's settings and the type of group or channel. Avoid posting sensitive information in a community. We cannot prevent other users from retaining information you voluntarily disclose to them.

13. Updates and earlier information

We may revise this policy as the Services or legal requirements change. We will update the version date and provide notice of material changes where required. We will not treat a new notice as retroactive permission for materially different use of data; any required consent or other lawful basis must be obtained.

14. Contact

Privacy contact and operator: Hamilton General Corporation, trading as ZV Picks / Zero Variance Picks. Website: https://www.zvpicks.com. Email: zerovariancepicks@gmail.com. Include "Privacy Request" for rights requests or "Privacy Complaint" for a concern.